Ms. Sarah B. Matthews has directed capital campaigns and mentored annual pledge drives for churches for since 1999. She was also the campaign director for the community foundation in Kingsport, Tennessee. Actively involved in church ministry since 1989, she has worked with churches in most mainline denominations from Rhode Island to Florida, and is keenly aware of the particular challenges involved in a capital campaign in a church setting.

Her consulting experience includes visioning workshops, feasibility studies, capital campaigns and annual fund drives. She has also been a speaker and trainer at the judicatory level.

Before focusing on church consulting, she was a meeting and event coordinator, and directed the education and training efforts of a 12,000 member national Christian professional association. Ms. Matthews was also in the hospitality industry for nearly 8 years.

A native of Tennessee, she earned her bachelor's degree in Communications from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville. Ms. Matthews currently resides in Atlanta, GA, with her husband Dan, an Episcopal priest, and their two children.
